The Star is beginning to believe that President Wilson is a reincarnation of Confucius.

The Daytona Daily Journal is on deck. Glad to see it, and hope it will never suspend again.

The Mexicans have a right to believe that the American soldiers who were sent to guard Douglas, Ariz., and didn't, are "too proud to fight."

Wonder what is the reason for the constantly recurring attempts to throw blame on Controller Knott because he doesn't do things the law gives him no power to do.

The greatest objection that we know of to eugenics laws is that occasionally two dampfools that can't match with anybody else fall in love with each other, and eugenics would prove an impassable barrier to their affections.

The Miami Metropolis will please make correction. The article in its issue of Nov. 1, credited to the Ocala Star, and expressing the opinion that Allie Angle was the leading candidate for state controller, did not appear in this paper.

If there can be any more humiliated person than an American soldier, covering in a trench, while Mexican bullets whiz over him, into the homes and sometimes into the bodies of people whom it is his duty to guard, we should not like to see him.

The Star advised leaving a number of benches on the courthouse square, but it did not advocate there being so many, or their being in such unsymmetrical disarray. A dozen in the most suitable places would be enough.

Nearly every newspaper in the state has a kindly mention of Ocala for the hospitality shown to the Confederate soldiers at the recent reunion. We would like to reproduce all that our contemporaries have said regarding this event, but it would take several columns.

A bunch of Mississippians, a few nights ago, took from a county jail in that state and lynched a young man of good family, who had shot in the back and killed an ordinary workman, who at the time was engaged in a fight with another man. If capital punishment is to be confined to lynchings, this Mississippi crowd set a good example. Young white men of good families are expected to lead in bravery and fair dealing, and when one proves himself a cowardly assassin, then, if ever, is the time for common people to take justice into their own hands.

Mr. W. J. Crosby of Citra was a Temple patron Monday night. Mr. Crosby was a recent visitor to Tallahassee and of his recent arrival there the Record made the following mention: "Miss Ethel Crosby was delightedly surprised last Sunday with a visit from her parents, Hon. and Mrs. W. J. Crosby of Citra, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Evans of Island Grove. The party motored over Sunday to Tallahassee and remained until Tuesday. Mr. Crosby was a member of the legislature at its last session and was an ardent supporter of all bills furthering the educational interests of the state."

Size up all the notable men of Florida you can think of on the spur of the moment, or at your leisure—and mention one who has earned as much distinction for himself and his state and done as much real good by way of high example and encouragement, within the same length of time, as the boy Malcolm Miller, over in Santa Rosa county, who last season grew 172 bushels of corn on one acre of land. He deserves the medal the governor of Florida will confer upon him, and some of these days, if he keeps up his lick, he is likely to be governor of Florida, himself, or maybe, secretary of agriculture in the president's cabinet at Washington.—Lakeland Telegram.

Quite a bunch of Marion county boys are hustling to equal or excel him.

The citrus canker is proving a great menace to the orange groves of Florida. It is the intention of our congressmen to work for government aid to combat the pest, but it is doubtful that they succeed. Florida being a safely democratic state, the leading men of both parties are rather stingy about giving it anything. If Congress does not give the state any aid to combat this disease, which if not stopped will certainly devastate the orange groves of Louisiana and California, as well as our own, the state legislature should be called in extra session to take the necessary measures. The citrus canker is worrying the orange growers greatly. It may cost millions to eradicate it, and then again some one may discover the proper remedy in a short time and at little expense. In either event, no time is to be lost in trying to discover the cause and its cure.

Opening the packing house of the Marion Citrus Association is a great event for Ocala. It will center in this city a packing industry that has been heretofore scattered over a wide extent of territory. Already, orange growers in neighboring counties, who have packing houses of their own have signified their intention of sending their fruit to Ocala to be packed, which they can do more cheaply and efficiently than at home. The influence of the Citrus Exchange is steadily spreading. There is no reason why all our fruit growers should not go into it. It is probable that few would stay out if all fully understood its intentions and systems. Many fruit growers have the mistaken idea that the exchange intends to dominate the business. On the contrary, it intends to help through information and co-operation. These are the two greatest agencies for the advancement of civilization, and the man who helps them and allows them to help him is sure to be on the right road.

Germany grandiloquently announces that she is fighting for the freedom of the seas. The seas were free and reasonably safe for many years up to the time that Germany inaugurated her policy of frightfulness. The United States and Great Britain exterminated piracy long before Germany had a navy. Big ships voyaged in safety all around the world without a single cannon on board. Any vessel with proper papers could go into any port. There has been more freedom and more justice on the sea than on the land for the last half a century, and for this state of affairs England has been principally responsible. Germany doesn't want the seas to be free. She wants to control them, but they will freeze before she does.

One of the most promising agencies for the improvement of our city is the young men's club. It would be difficult to find in any city a larger percentage of progressive and broad-minded young men than in Ocala, and it was indeed an inspiration that drew them together in a concrete organization. They have done wisely in deciding to exclude political matters from their plans and discussion. Politics or religion will break up any organization except one entirely devoted to one of those subjects. They follow in this policy the great fraternal orders, which have stood for decades, generations and centuries, and are increasing in membership and influence every day.

WHAT A BARREL OF WHISKY HOLDS

(Contributed)

A barrel of headaches, of heartaches, of woes.
A barrel of curses, a barrel of blows.
A barrel of tears from a world-weary wife,
A barrel of sorrow, a barrel of strife.
A barrel of unavailing regret,
A barrel of cares and a barrel of debt.
A barrel of crimes and a barrel of pain,
A barrel of hopes ever blasted and vain.
A barrel of falsehood, a barrel of lies.
That fall from the maniac's life as he dies.
A barrel of agony, heavy and dull,
A barrel of poison of this nearly full.
A barrel of liquid damnation that fires
The brain of the fool who believes it inspires.
A barrel of poverty, ruin and blight,
A barrel of terrors that grow with the night.
A barrel of hunger, a barrel of groans,
A barrel of orphans' most pitiful moans.
A barrel of serpents that hiss as they pass
From the head of the liquor that glows in the glass.

MR. HAMPTON FOR MAYOR

Astute and Popular Young Lawyer Announces Himself a Candidate for Ocala's Highest Office

At the request of a number of my friends I announce myself a candidate for the office of mayor of the city of Ocala at the election to be held December 13, 1915.

If elected I promise the people of Ocala a clean administration of the affairs of the city.

H. M. Hampton.

BOARD OF TRADE LYCEUM COURSE

Ocala is to receive a great treat this winter in the lyceum course to be given by the Board of Trade and to consist of the following numbers:

Champ Clark, lecturer.
Miss McLaren, reader.
The McCords, entertainers.
The Savanoffs, musical.
Colby, cartoonist.
Wallace Bruce Ambary, lecturer.
Bellino Novelty Company, musical.
Mr. Niel Ferguson will assist the Board of Trade in placing subscriptions for tickets. Season tickets, single, will be $3; double, $5. Any one member of a family can go on one ticket; any two members of a single family on any double ticket. This price for season tickets will bring the average down to about thirty-five cents. The season tickets carry reserve seat privileges. The lecture by Champ Clark will cost $1 to any person not holding a season ticket; each other attraction will be 75 cents to persons not holding season tickets. It is hoped that the good people of Ocala will appreciate the efforts being made along this line and avail themselves of the season ticket privileges. See Niel Ferguson and arrange for your ticket at the earliest opportunity. If you cannot see him conveniently, phone in your reservation.

SUFFERING FROM A DISTRESSING COUGH.

Ocala, Fla.—"I take pleasure in recommending your medicines, especially Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

"I had a distressing cough and a neighbor advised me to try a few bottles of 'Discovery,' which I did, and was greatly benefited."

"The 'Favorite Prescription' I can recommend for weak women."

"The 'Pleasant Pellets' I keep on hand, as they are invaluable."

"I am 65 years of age and do the most of my housework and feel I owe a great deal to using Dr. Pierce's medicines."—Mrs. E. J. For, 1109 Oklawaha Ave.

Consumption kills more people than any other disease. It is more deadly than any of the dreaded epidemics. It is a stealthy, gradual, slow disease. It penetrates the whole body. It is in every drop of blood. It seems to work only at the lungs, but the terrible drain and waste go on all over the body. For the coughs that run into consumption, a remedy is needed that will work on the blood, make it pure, rich and wholesome, build up the wasting tissues and put the body into condition for a fight against this dread disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery fights in the right way. Its first action is to put the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys in good working order. That makes digestion good and assimilation quick and thorough; it makes sound, healthy flesh. That's half the battle. This makes the "Discovery" good for those who are lighter in weight and less robust than they ought to be.

Mean Brute!
"Some of these dern newspapers print nothing but lies," growled Mr. Gabb as he slammed the evening paper on the floor.

"What's the matter, now?" asked Mrs. Gabb.
"Why, there is an article in that sheet stating that a woman was unspeakably happy," replied Mr. Gabb.

Fact.
You may be cheated, it is true.

But when you borrow trouble you are sure to get good measure.

Luke McLuke Says:
A man usually has a sneaking idea that there wasn't much the matter with the fellow who announces in a testimonial that he was cured by taking two bottles of Dr. Bunk's Bushwah Bitters or some other patent medicine.

The old fashioned man who used to bring home a market basket filled with provisions on Saturday night for Sunday's dinner now has a son who lugs home a case of beer and a quart of booze for Sunday's breakfast.

Luke has only one enemy in the world, and he is a persistent old wart hog who sends in anonymous knocks on postal cards and signs them "No." His latest card told of his joy over Luke's sickness and expressed the wish that Luke would never recover. Thank! We will bet that this lad has lime water in his veins and that he would slap a child or kick a dog that attempted to be friendly. We will also bet that he is so narrow that if he ever hid behind a needle who couldn't find him with a microscope.

Why is it that the women who do their own washing and their own housework never suffer from nervous prostration?

A woman has more patience than a man. She expects her reward in Heaven, but a man wants his while he is here.

Some men love trouble so much that they carry a heavy load of it in a holster in a hip pocket.

It doesn't seem right that a divorce should cause more joy than the wedding that preceded it, but it often pans out that way.

A husband is usually an animal who has to listen while his wife tells him how good and how attractive all other husbands are to their wives. Bitching is not a lost art. The trouble is that the girls put on so much paint and powder that a blush can't show through.

Before he gets her she is a clinging vine. After he gets her she reminds him of poison ivy.

When two men start in to tell each other how hard they work each is silently wondering how the other can be such a liar and live.

FREE UNTIL 1916

Have you subscribed yet for the Youth's Companion for 1916? Now is the time to do it, if you are not already a subscriber, for you will get all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1915 free from the time your subscription with $2.50 is received.

The fifty-two issues of 1916 will be crowded with good reading for young and old. Reading that is entertaining, but not "wishy-washy." Reading that leaves you, when you lay the paper down, better informed, with keener aspirations, with a broader outlook on life. The Companion is a good paper to tie to if you have a growing family—and for general reading, as Justice Brewer once said, no other is necessary.

If you wish to know more of the brilliant list of contributors, from our ex-presidents down, who will write for the new volume in 1916, and if you wish to know something of the new stories for 1916, let us send you free the forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2 for 1916 will receive, in addition to this year's free issues, the Companion Home Calendar for 1916. Address the Youth's Companion, Boston Mass. New subscriptions received at this office. tf
